APEX Analytix to Address Global Trends in Financial Shared Services and Procure-to-Pay during Fall Events in Europe

GREENSBORO, N.C. – September 8, 2011 – Executives from APEX Analytix will address emerging global trends and best practices in financial shared services and procure-to-pay during several high-profile events scheduled this fall in Europe. The events include:

- APEX Analytix Elite Financial Executives Conference, September 11-13 in Prague.

APEX Analytix is inviting senior executives in accounts payable, shared services and procure-to-pay to an event focused on issues and opportunities – from new global accounts payable models to emerging fraud detection techniques. A number of well-respected firms will participate in panel discussions and to share case studies. Among them are: Delta Airlines, Dixons Retail (Equanet), Johnson & Johnson, The Home Depot, Pfizer, JPMorgan Chase and UBS.

- Corporate Executive Board Finance & Strategy Summit, October 5-6 in London.

APEX Analytix CEO Steve Yurko and Managing Director for Europe Albert Peynsaert will host a breakfast roundtable for senior executives belonging to the Corporate Executive Board. The event will focus on reducing disbursement fraud and risk.

- The AP Evolution, November 9-10 in London.

APEX Analytix will present interim results from an accounts payable benchmarking survey, including trends in technology adoption, payment terms, fraud mitigation, discounting and more. APEX and the Institute of Financial Operations are co-sponsoring the benchmarking initiative.

- Shared Services Outsourcing Network, November 21-24 in Berlin.

Sales VP Klaus Sonneborn will speak on the value of benchmarking and on how the APEX Analytix FirstStrike® platform can be used to protect disbursements and transform the audit process.

“Our involvement in these four events reflects the growing globalization of our business,” says Steve Yurko, CEO, APEX Analytix. “This year alone we’ve more than doubled the number of contracts we hold with organizations headquartered or based in Europe. We welcome opportunities to meet with clients and prospects, share best practices and discuss ways to deliver continuous value to their bottom line.”
